

[1st semester of 2020] Changes of Class Schedule

In light of the situation where the infection of the new coronavirus has been spreading in Japan, we have decided to change the start date of classes for the Spring Semester from April 3 (Fri) to April 14 (Tue) in order to ensure student health and safety and prevent the spread of infection.

The new class schedule 14 will be updated accordingly on our school homepage soon.

If you have symptoms such as cough, fever, etc. even after classes start, please refrain from coming to the university and go to the nearest medical institution immediately.
